

Burn

I saved every _____ you wrote me

From the _____ I read them

I knew you were mine

You said you were mine

I thought you were mine

Do you know what Angelica said

When we saw your first letter _____?

She said

“Be careful with that one, love. He will do what it _____ to _____.”

You and your words _____ my _____

Your sentences left me defenseless

You built me _____ out of paragraphs

You built cathedrals

I’m re-reading the letters you wrote me

I’m _____ and scanning for _____

In every line

For some kind of _____

And when you were mine

The world seemed to

Burn, Burn

You _____ the letters she wrote you

You told the whole world how you brought

This girl into our bed

In _____ your name, you have _____ our lives

Do you know what Angelica said

When she read what you'd done?

She said

"You've married an Icarus. He has _____ too close to the sun."

You and your words, obsessed with your _____...

Your sentences border on senseless

And you are paranoid in every _____

How they perceive you

You, you, you...

I'm _____ myself from the narrative

Let future _____ wonder how Eliza

Reacted when you broke her heart

You have _____ it all apart

I am watching it, Burn

Watching it burn

The world has no _____ to my heart

The world has no _____ in our bed

They don't get to know what I said

I'm burning the _____

Burning the letters that might have redeemed you

You forfeit all rights to my heart

You forfeit the place in our bed

You sleep in your office _____

With only the memories

Of when you were mine

I hope that you burn
